D7 G7
Well she was just sixty-eight; and, man, she looked great,
D7 A7 A7
With those wrinkles and all that curly grey hair.
D D7 G7 Bb D A7 D7 D7
So how could I romance a-nother, oooh. When I saw her knitting there.
D7 G7 D7
Well, she called to me, and I, I could see
D7 A7 A7
Her false teeth slip with each and ev-er-y word.
D D7 G7 Bb D A7 D7 D7
She wouldn't romance a-nother, oooh. When I saw her knitting there.

CHORUS:

G7 G7
Well my hip went pop, and my left knee locked,
G7 A7 A7 G7 G7
When my walker bumped her ca - a - a - ne.

D7 G7 D7
Well we napped through the night. And we held each other tight,
D7 A7 A7
And be-fore too long, I remembered her name.
D D7 G7 Bb D A7 D7 D7
Now I'll never romance a-nother, oooh. Since I saw her knitting there.

CHORUS

D7 G7 D7
Ooh we napped through the night. And we held each other tight,
D7 A7 A7
And be-fore too long, I remembered her name.
D D7 G7 Bb D A7 D7 D7
Now I'll never romance a-nother, oooh. Since I saw her knitting there.
D A7 D7 D7 D A7 D7 D7
Oh, since I saw her knitting there. Well, since I saw her knitting there.
