Singing the Blues

Written by Melvin Endsey and first recorded by Marty Robbins, 1956

```
ɪNTRO: G   C   G   D7
        4   4   4   4
```
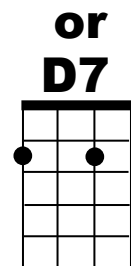

C

          G   C
Well, I never felt more like singin' the blues
          G   D7
'Cause I never thought that I'd ever lose
       C   D7   G(2)   C(2)   G(4)
Your love dear, why'd you do me this way?

D7

          G   C
Well, I never felt more like cryin' all night
          G   D7
'cause everythin's wrong, and nothin' ain't right
       C   D7   G(2)   C(2)   G(4)
With-out you, you got me singin' the blues.

or
D7

                       C   G
CHORUS   The moon and stars no longer shine
                       C   G
                The dream is gone I thought was mine
                       C   G
                There's nothin' left for me to do
                G   Tacit..............D7   D7(4)   D7(2)
                But cry -- ay -- ay -- ay over you   (cry over you)
                sung by Judy and Doug.........   "echo" sung by the rest of us

G

D7(2)   G   C
Well, I never felt more like runnin' away
        G   D7
But why should I go 'cause I couldn't stay
       C   D7   G(2)   C(2)   G(4)
With--out you, you got me singin' the blues.

IF JUSTIN IS HERE, THERE IS A HARMONICA SOLO OF VERSE 1,
WE CAN STRUM SOFTLY

                       C   G
CHORUS   The moon and stars no longer shine
                       C   G
                The dream is gone I thought was mine
                       C   G
                There's nothin' left for me to do
                G   Tacit..............D7   D7(4)   D7(2)
                But cry -- ay -- ay -- ay over you   (cry over you)
                sung by Judy and Doug.........   "echo" sung by the rest of us

D7(2)   G   C
Well, I never felt more like singin' the blues
        G   D7
'Cause I never thought that I'd ever lose
       C   D7   G (4)
Your love dear....why'd you do me this way?
              D7   G (4)
     (fading) ... why'd you do me this way?
              D7   G (4)   G (1)
            ... why'd you do me this way?
